Unexpected Move Made in the District Court Today.

A peculiar thing happened today in A peculiar thing happened today in the district court—two Topeka jointists pleaded guilty and will accept sen-tences of 30 days in jail and $100 fine. The two men are Walt Richards, pro-prietor of the place on East Seventh street and Harry Croft, whose joint is between Fourth and Fifth streets, on Kansas avenue

Kansas avenue.

There was surprise in the court room when Judge Hazen called the cases and H. C. Safford, attorney for Croft and Richards arose and said that his men desired to enter a plea of guilty to the charge of maintaining nuisances. "I desire to ask a suspension of sentence desire to ask a suspension of sentence for a few days," said Mr. Safford. Judge Hazen entered the plea on the docket and said that he would suspend sentence until Wednesday.

There are different opinions about the reason that impelled the men to plead guilty. The men themselves are silent on the question. One of their at-

ORDER XRAY MACHINES. Spain Will Likely Make Large Purchases in This Country.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 25.—The Fessenden Manufacturing company of Pittsburg has received from the Spanish consul in New York a request for an equipment of X-ray apparatus for ship, hospital and field service. The figures were furnished.

Professor Reginald A. Fessenden said today: "If we get the order we will rush it. This is a peculiar case. If wounded Spaniards in our hospitals are given the advantage of the X-ray apparatus there are no reason why Amerparatus there are no reason why Americans taken to Spanish hospitals should not also get the benefit of it."

The Fessenden company is making about 100 X-ray machines for the United States government. Many are especially designed for field work and can be run by a storage battery. The X-ray machine, it is said, will be a great boon to American soldiers in this war.

PROTECTOR OF VIRTUE Fined $5 for Pounding a Young Man's

Face. Oliver Lynch, a boy 16 years of age, was at the police court this morning, wearing a very badly swollen face. When the case of Oliver Williams, for assault, was called, the boy stood up before the judge, together with J. W. Stocker, who employs him. Williams pleaded not guilty to the charge, and Lynch said:
"I was passing Williams' place on Locust street at noon Saturday and he ran out and called me a name, threw his left arm around my neck and struck me two or three times in the face."

"Had you said anything to him that day?" asked the city attorney.
"No, sir; but we had a little trouble about a week aro."

Joseph Faulkener was arraigned before Police Judge Atchison this morning on the charge of disturbing the peace. He was arrested Sunday at his home on complaint of his wife, who ran into the complaint of his wife, who ran into the street crying and holding her face. They had had a quarrel. When City Attorney Bird asked Faulkener what his plea would be he said: "Well, I suppose Law guilty." I am guilty."
"What did you do?" asked Judge

Atchison,
"Why, my wife and I got into a little scuille, and I touched her, or hit her on the nose. Then she ran out into the street crying, and the policeman came in and got me. We were both to blame." Atchison.

CHASED THE MATRON. Exciting Tussle With a Drunken and Infuriated Colored Woman.

Mary Johnson, a colored woman who was brought to the city jail last night at 10:15 o'clock by Special Officer Bout-well, made a vicious attack on Police wen, made a vicious attack on Police Matron Thorpe, who was sent for to attend the woman, and had it not been for the prompt action and strength of Jaller John Dagg there would probably have been a tragedy.

Officer Boutwell found the woman at Second and Kansas avenue. She was drunk and was veiling and severains

drunk and was yelling and screaming. Boutwell arrested her and with great difficulty took her to police station. She was left in Jailed Dagg's charge. The principal feature of the new card is the putting on of a limited "fiyer" between Chicago and Denver via Omaha. This train will compete in speed with the Burlington and Northwestern fast trains from Chicago to Denver, and will be one of the handsomest trains on any road in the United States. The equipment was built by the Pullman company under special orders, and the train will be lighted with electricity throughout even the engines being began searching the woman and order-ed her to throw away the cigarette, She refused, and became violent. There She refused, and became violent. There was no one at police station but Jaller Degg, the police matron and the prisoner. The woman attacked Mrs. Thorpe and ran her from the jall office, swearing to kill her. Mrs. Thorpe dodged a vicious blow aimed at her head. Jaller Dagg clinched with her and a struggle followed. The woman is powerful, and it taxed the jaller's strength to hold her. He tried to take her up the front stairs to the women's ward, but found that she was too drunk to be trusted in a place where the bars are trusted in a place where the bars are on the outside of the windows and no on the outside of the windows and no steel cage was built for such people. Struggling and fighting, using the vi-lest language imaginable, Mary John-son was forced down the stairs to the steel cage in the basement of the jall. There she was locked in and spent the night. During the time she was at Second and Kansas avenue, and also during the struggle with the jailer she received several small cuts and bruises on her head and body. This morning she had sobered considerably and was taken to the women's ward. Her trial was continued until tomorrow. She was released on bond furnished by Andy Dupree, of Smoky Row.

Police Matron Thorpe speaking of her experience with the woman, said: "I don't know what would have happened if Mr. Dagg hadn't been a strong man. The woman attacked me, and then he ran and seized her. I never heard such awful language in my life. She fought like a tigress."
